Local canneries to open

AN UNUSUAL OCCURANCE: nine apples on one bough of this Early Transparent apple tree at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Kenner Jr. all the bough were loaded like this one, the tree, approximately 25 years old, is one of many fruit trees on the Kenner property.

Appomattox County, located in the Town of Appomattox, will be open for the 1981 season beginning June 29 for the Pumpkin Canning Operation.

Opening day for the Appomattox County canning operation will be each Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week.

Both canneries will adjust their hours of operation to volume demands. It is most important that we operate our canneries as many days as possible," states R. B. Carter, Director of Vocational Education. "Most counties are discontinuing such services and if we are to continue to offer this service to our citizens, we must be willing to use the canning facilities.

Last year was one of the busiest years in the history of school canneries. A total of 13,768 containers were processed at Appomattox. A total of 13,768 containers were processed at Pumpkin. A total volume of 27,536 containers were processed at both canneries.

Lay instructors that will help with the operation of the canneries are Berthe Dickerson and Clayton Leigh at the Pumpkin Canning Center and Patrick Harrison at the Appomattox Canning Center. Mr. Harrison will be employed on a part-time basis while Phyllis Pumpkin Canning after August 31. Mr. Jimmy Burcher, supervisor of agricultural education at Appomattox County High School, will be in charge of the canning operations.

Canning equipment is available for use by the public. Persons may bring their own produce to can or may purchase produce from the canneries. Produce will be available for purchase at the canneries at reasonable prices.

Canning instructors and other personnel will be available to assist canners in the operation of the canning equipment as well as to demonstrate proper canning procedures for using the canneries will be given each person using the canneries.

Opening day for the Appomattox and Pumpkin canneries will be each Tuesday and Thurs
